Clean up begins with public input and jobs

Clean up leaders have open ears

CHELAN -- Holden Mine clean up officials will host a public meeting from 4 to 7 p.m., April 11 at Campbell’s Resort to take public input.

Dave Cline, Holden Mine project manager for Rio Tinto, said the meeting’s goal is to listen to residents and answer their questions.

Clean up, which will begin this spring, will create about 80 on-site jobs for area residents. The human resources company, Magnus Pacific, will host two job fairs - one in Chelan and one in Wenatchee - in the next few months.

The clean up will create about 80 on site positions this year, and about 200 in 2013 and 14.

A full story will follow. Check back for details.